

YAHALOM Lasting Impact

Through a unique and enjoyable educational model, groups of families engage, learn and grow together.

- Cultivating a shared family narrative
- Taking time-out to focus on quality family time
- Supporting parents as their children's role model and educator
- Deepening Jewish identity, humanistic values
- Celebrating pluralism and the rich Jewish tapestry

YAHALOM strengthens and nurtures the family bond, while deepening links with Israel, pluralist Jewish identity and values.

Family Activities that Make a Difference

More than 200,000 parents and children have shared the YAHALOM experience, building some of their family's most treasured memories.

Explore pluralistic Jewish identity
Quality family time
Unforgettable family fun

Family Summer Camps

A four-day family holiday experience you'll never forget!

The YAHALOM intense activity program brings together children and parents to discover Jerusalem's sites and through creative and entertaining workshops explore their own Jewish identity, sharing in authentic open dialogue.

The camps also offer a rare multi-cultural encounter, including North American, Ethiopian, Russian speaking and other Israeli families.

Family Summer Camps are in their 12th year and the figures say it all:

- 7,000 parents and children have taken part to date
- 5 different 4-day summer camp programs are now available
- Every year up to 50% of participants are returning families

"A rare opportunity for my children to befriend other Jewish children from different places and ethnic groups"

"The topics, experiences and insights that we have gained in the summer camps will remain with us for many years"

American Jewish Families can experience YAHALOM at home or in Israel

In Israel: Make a YAHALOM summer camp part of your Israel summer trip. Join our intense 4-day pluralistic Jewish identity experience in Jerusalem and enjoy the opportunity to strengthen your family ties, while enriching your Jewish cultural and historical connection.

At home: Leverage the YAHALOM vast expertise in generating Jewish family experiences to develop Family Camps that are tailor-made for the needs of your community or organization.

"For the first time my fifteen year old son was prepared to talk without cynicism about Judaism and Zionism"

"Until we met all these other families, we never realized there are so many approaches to Judaism"

"This was a truly special kind of family vacation and a unique opportunity to spend real quality time with my children"

"We discussed family issues that we don't normally think about, but are such an important part of our day-to-day lives"
